

HAYDEN, IDAHO, May 20, 2021 – Unitech Composites is pleased to recognize the hard work of UCI's Quality Group on the implementation of Advanced Product Quality Planning (APQP), per the guidelines of AS9145, into our quality procedures. One of our key customers sent us the following acknowledgement: "To my knowledge there are less than 10 suppliers that have made it as far into the APQP process as you have, and there may be less than 5 suppliers across the industry that have begun the process of transferring the control of the process away from Quality, and over to Program Management. I am proud to say that you are my supplier when we speak internally about the status of the APQP Pathfinders."

It's great to receive recognition from our customers and be able to celebrate this success. Congratulations to Ben Busson, Lee Fox and the rest of the Unitech Quality team who've worked hard and are continuing to work on the APQP implementation.
